ROBINSON DECLARES HOUSE REPUDIATION CONCLUSIVE PROOF

Efforts to Revive Sales Tax in Senate Apparently Stemmed after Democratic Party Conference

By United Press
Washington.—Possibility of reviving the general manufacturers sales tax in the senate apparently vanished Thursday when Minority Leader Robinson announced after a party conference that senate Democrats seemed to regard house repudiation of that source of revenue as "conclusive."

Couzens Before Senate
Washington.—Efforts to restore the manufacturers sales tax to the revenue bill were discouraged by Senator Couzens, Republican, Michigan, at the senate finance committee hearing on the measure today.

"You might as well forget that," Couzens told L. L. Feldman, representing the New York Board of Trade, when Feldman told the committee his organization was in favor of the sales tax feature.

Couzens advised Feldman to "find some other means" of taxation rather than attempt to restore the sales tax.

Feldman protested on behalf of the board against high levies on persons with money to invest. He was interrupted by Senator Connally, Dem., Tex., who said:

"You just want to repeat what Secretary Hills said yesterday."

Chairman Smoot of the committee laid down to Feldman and future witnesses a ruling that they would have to confine their remarks strictly to questions of taxation.

Feldman urged reduction of federal salaries and other expenses, and specifically objected to the following provisions of the bill:

Normal income taxes on dividends, net loss provisions, net estate taxes, stock and bond transfer taxes.

Seidman suggested four cents a share on stock transfers instead of one-fourth of one per cent.

Seidman urged the committee to reduce income tax exemptions to "broaden the base" by a progress which would subject comparatively small incomes to a federal tax.

Challenges Seidman

Benjamin C. March, representing the people's lobby, challenged Seidman's testimony with recommendations for "very heavy taxation" on incomes over $10,000 and a 75 per cent tax on estates exceeding $10,000,000. The treasury and Seidman supported a 25 per cent estate tax and Mills yesterday complained the maximum of 40 per cent now in the bill was "semi-socialistic" and destructive of the capitalistic system.

Marsh said tax exempt securities should be abolished, complaining that treasury figures showed the aggregate of capital in these securities was approximately $20,000,000,000 and that there was in addition $12,000,000,000 of state securities exempt from normal income taxation.

Washington.—Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, said today he would propose revenue bill amendments increasing income surtax rates, probably to a maximum of 50 per cent, beginning at $3,000,000.

STAPLES FARMER VICTIM GUNMEN; ROBBED AT HOME

Todd county authorities Thursday sought three gunmen who held up James Ringler, farmer, living near Staples and robbed him of $99 Wednesday night.

The gunmen stopped their automobile on the road in front of the farm. Ringler was greeted with a gun and demands for money when he opened the door of his home in answer to knocking. The farmer was forced to reenter the home and take the money from a hiding place.

CHICAGO NOMINEE FOR JUDGE DENIES PART CAPONE DEAL

JUDGE WILKERSON OUTLINES STAND TO SENATOR BORAH IN LETTER

Washington.—Judge James H. Wilkerson of Chicago denied today in a letter to Senator Borah that he had made any agreement with United States Attorney George E. Q. Johnson of Chicago with attorneys for Al Capone as to Capone's sentence.

Wilkerson is up for confirmation by the senate as a federal circuit judge. Union labor is strongly opposed to his confirmation.

As district court judge he refused to approve an agreement whereby Capone was to plead guilty to income tax fraud charges and receive a comparatively light sentence in return.

The judge took the position in his letter to the senate judiciary committee that he merely authorized Johnson to make a recommendation with respect to an agreement with Capone. He held that it was the province of a judge to make such authorization but that he was not bound by any agreement.

Joseph Wolf, Staples, Democratic national committeeman from Minnesota, today announced that all persons interested in hearing Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York speak may attend the annual Jefferson day banquet in St. Paul, April 18.

Regardless of party affiliations, all Minnesotans were invited to attend the dinner. Requests for reservations have been received from all over the northwest, Wolf said.

CHARGES HOOVER 'STARVED THE NAVY INTO INADEQUACY'

NAVY LEAGUE HEAD REVIEWS FEUD WITH PRESIDENT AND RESUMES ATTACK

Washington.—President William H. Gardner of the navy league Thursday renewed his feud with President Hoover, charging that the president permitted the United States fleet to be "starved into inadequacy."

Gardner resumed his attack on the administration in a 5,500-word statement entitled "The Treasury Deficit and Navy." The burden of his argument was: the president and congress have granted more than $1,000,000,000 for economic relief but will not approve $12,000,000 for naval construction next year.

For the last three years, the navy has had to "live off the shelf to get by at all."

The administration has done "virtually" nothing to replace warships now over age or nearing the age limit.

The United States navy now "is barely stronger than that of the Japanese and quite inferior to that of the British."

CITIZENS SUBMIT THREE PROPOSALS FOR EARLY ACTION

GOVERNOR SAYS HE HAS NO CONSTITUTIONAL RIGHT TO ACT ON REQUESTS

St. Johns, Newfoundland—Immediate removal of the Newfoundland government was requested today by a citizens' committee to prevent further disturbance in the capital, still dominated by crowds congregated outside government liquor stores, apparently ready to renew rioting.

Police and citizen volunteers kept the crowd in hand. Unless the government resigned immediately, however, more mob violence such as that which wrecked the parliament buildings and threatened the life of the premier and inspector general of police, was feared.

A citizens' committee called on Governor Sir John Middleton, warned him of the threats of violence, and urged that he take immediate action on one of three proposals.

1. Request the immediate resignation of Prime Minister Sir Richard Squire's government; 2. Dismiss the cabinet; or 3. Assume responsibility for the "fetal results" feared if the mob gets to Sir Richard or Inspector General Hutchings.

The governor said he had no constitutional authority to act on any of the suggestions. It was understood, however, that the cabinet would follow the lead of Minister without Portfolio Sir William Coaker and offer to resign as soon as possible.

Prime Minister Sir Richard Squire, however, returned to the capital from a hiding place where he was taken to escape the rioters, and let it be known through his colleagues that he would "stand pat."

Former Minister of Finance Cashing persuaded a crowd in front of the government liquor store in Duckworth street to disperse. Authorities then put up rope and wire entanglements in front of the central liquor store house.

F. C. Alderdice, leader of the opposition party in parliament, issued the following appeal in part to the rioters who wrecked the parliament buildings:

"Fellow citizens, you can do no good by force, which will only do you harm. I appeal to you to go quietly to your homes and, during the next two or three days, I and my party will use all lawful means to have your rightful demands satisfied."

Hastings, Minn.—Two youths were in county jail Thursday while a third recovered in the West Side general hospital in St. Paul after what police claimed was an attempt to burglarize the Riverview Golf club house.

DARROW GRILLS JURY PANEL SEEKING TO SHATTER FITNESS OF NATIVES

Courtroom, Honolulu, T. H.—Defense and prosecution fought Thursday over a jury to try four Americans accused of an "honor" murder that had its origin in the undercurrents of racial enmity.

Three score talemen parading through the jury box were a cross-section of the polyglot peoples who must decide now between vengeance for a slain native youth and vindication for the whites before the bar of Hawaiian justice.

With as many peremptory challenges as the defense. Public Prosecutor John Kelley parried Darrow's ironic thrusts about "intelligent jurors" and strove just as hard to seat venemore of mixed blood.

As the fourth day of jury choosing began it appeared a panel on which not more than half the members are white will try Mrs. Granville Fortescue, mild-mannered New York society matron; her son-in-law, nervous little Lt. Thomas H. Masse, and two jovial sailors, E. J. Gord and A. O. Jones.

They are charged with shooting to death Joe Mahahewa, Jr., bushy-haired young Hawaiian giant, after he and four other islanders had been tried on charges of attacking Mrs. Thalia Fortescue Massie, daughter of Mrs. Fortescue and wife of the navy officer. The attack jury disagreed.

Sensing that mere peremptory challenges of mixed-blood talemen would get him nowhere as long as prosecutors continued excusing the whites, Darrow suddenly changed his tactics to those of a schoolmaster.

Daughter of Author Weds

Marion Anderson, above, of Michigan City, Ind., daughter of Sherwood Anderson, internationally known novelist and author, is one of the social world's first spring brides. She was married to Russell Mayo Spear, son of Henry A. Spear, at North Amherst, Mass., and Rev. Byron Spear, uncle of the groom, officiated. Spear is a graduate of Amherst College, and an insurance broker.

N. D. GOVERNOR TO MAKE SENATE RACE AGAINST SEN. NYE

Valley City, N. D.—The Independent Voters' association, the organizations of "regular" Republicans in North Dakota, concluded its convention Wednesday night after selecting Governor George F. Shafer to oppose Senator Gerald Nye in the senatorial primary race and after approving President Hoover's "patient, courageous and constructive" policies.

In the senatorial contest in the state primary on June 29, the conservative, pro-Hoover Shafer will test his strength against Nye, who has come to be one of the leaders of the insurgent Republican movement in the senate. Nye will have the support of the Nonpartisan league which some years ago controlled the state and to some extent was responsible for its reputation as a liberal center in legislative experimentation.

Another resolution supported the federal farm board.

The slate of candidates for leading officers approved by the I. V. A. convention included:

Senator—George F. Shafer, present governor.

Congressmen—C. B. Burtness, Grand Forks, and Thomas Hall, Bismarck, incumbents.

Governor—Frank H. Hyland, Devils Lake.

Lieutenant governor—James Morris, Carrington, incumbent.

HAWKS CRITICALLY INJURED AS CRAFT CRASHES TO EARTH

INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS HOLDER OF FLIGHT RECORDS IN MISHAP

Worcester, Mass.—Frank Hawks, internationally famous aviator, holder of many distance flight records including United States transcontinental marks, was injured, possibly critically, in a crash at the airport near here Thursday.

Hawks had fulfilled a lecture date before Worcester Boy Scouts Wednesday night, and had intended to return immediately to New York. He deferred his start until Thursday morning, however, because of the muddy condition of the field. He had difficulty in taking off Thursday and was said to have fallen after having arisen only a few feet.

Hawks was taken to Memorial hospital. It was feared he had sustained a fractured skull.

Unable to get his heavily loaded low wing monoplane into the air from a soggy field, he crashed into a stone wall on the outskirts of the airport.

The plane was smashed, but did not take fire.

Unconscious and suffering from severe head and face lacerations, the noted aviator was extricated with little difficulty by airport attaches.

MRS FAWCETT ASKS JURY TRIAL FIXING STOCK OWNERSHIP

ATTORNEY ASSERTS DIVORCE ACTION CAUSE OF SUIT AGAINST "BILLY"

Minneapolis.—Judge Arthur W. Selover Thursday took under advisement a petition of Mrs. Antoinette Fawcett asking a jury trial to determine whether she owns one share of stock in the Fawcett Publications, Inc., of which her husband, Captain William H. Fawcett, Chester W. Johnson, attorney for Fawcett, charged that Mrs. Fawcett is seeking to ruin her husband, his brother, Roscoe Fawcett, and the corporation. Her efforts to prove ownership of stock are part of a campaign to throw the corporation into receivership and spread news of it to all parts of the country, Johnson said.

The receivership attempt grew out of divorce actions between Fawcett and his wife which will be heard in Brainerd next month, Johnson said, and the action in Brainerd will be exceedingly bitter.

Johnson denied that Mrs. Fawcett owned a share of stock and explained that one share had been held in trust for her but was later cancelled.

George S. Grimes, Minneapolis, appeared for Mrs. Fawcett and outlined the conditions under which he said Mrs. Fawcett owned the stock.

He fired difficult questions at the Chinese, Japanese and part Hawaiian "prospects" in an attempt to determine their mental fitness to serve. After one difficult session, harsh voiced Circuit Judge Charles S. Davis confessed to doubts that K. Keoloha Hawaiian stevedore, had "education and intelligence enough."

Through the first panel of 24, another of 15 and the third of 20, the endless contest waged. When court convened Thursday the jury box held Kam Tai Lee and Cheong Jay, Chinese; Willie Bever, German. Honolulu's "potato chip king"; Edward Goerns and Francis Rosehill, part-Hawaiian; Charles Akana, Japanese; Bernard Stevens, Hawaiian; and Olaf Sorenson, Stafford Waterhouse, Douglas Cooke, Charles H. Stroblin and E. H. Eveleth, whites.

REPORT THAT BABY IS ALIVE AND WELL SPURS OFFICIALS

POLICE BULLETIN CASTS NO LIGHT ON PROGRESS; STILL SEEK GANGSTERS

By United Press

Hopewell, N. J.—The diligent work towards recovery of the kidnapped Lindbergh child continued Thursday with belief still prevalent that the child was well and would be returned to its parents.

There was no announcement up on which the belief could be positively pinned. Governor A. Harry Moore had expressed such a belief and Col. Charles A. Lindbergh had made secret flights to the New England shore.

Norfolk negotiators also pressed to have assurances the baby was well.

Today's police bulletin cast no light on progress of the case other than that the search for Harry Fleischer, former Detroit Purple gangster, and Abe Wagner continued.

"Fleischer and Wagner are still being sought and from time to time information comes in which is immediately investigated," Col. H. Norman Schwartzkopf reported. "Peculiar circumstances surrounding their disappearance as well as the report as to where they have been seen, seems to bring them under suspicion. And it is important to this investigation that they be located and questioned."

Meanwhile, the activity in the Martha's vineyard section abated somewhat. Inspector William J. Fitzgerald of the customs service denied he was working on a definite lead and said he was merely offering his services around Falmouth, Mass.

Norfolk Va.—Col. Charles A. Lindbergh has repeated his request that three Norfolk men, who believe they have established contact with kidnapers of Charles Augustus Lindbergh, Jr., continue their negotiations. Rear Admiral Guy Burrage said today.

He said he and his two associates were holding themselves in readiness to leave at any time to renew contacts.

"On my trip," Curtis said, "I made contact, and was informed by my contact that Charles was well. I saw Col. Lindbergh personally, but am not at liberty to say where. I regret my inability to say more at this time."

WIRELESS WIZARD PERFECTS DEVICE RADIO - TELEPHONE COMMUNICATION

(Copyright 1932 by United Press)
Rome—Senator Guglielmo Marconi told me Thursday how he had developed an invention which will enable a user of an ultra-short wave two-way radio apparatus to communicate with any telephone subscriber within 100 miles.

I talked to Marconi over an ordinary telephone line between Rome and Marcella, in northern Italy, where he had just finished successful experiments with his new invention. The new development should not be confused with ordinary short waves, Marconi said. It uses ultra short waves of 2 centimeters (20,424 inches) of much greater frequency than any now used.

Normal short wave communication today is from five to 200 meters. The Marconi invention permits use of a wave little longer than one-half meter.

Marconi said the apparatus would not be affected by atmospheric conditions and would eliminate static.

"I think this new apparatus will communicate with any telephone subscriber within a radius of 100 miles," he said. "This should be true even of isolated and country districts."

"The apparatus can be carried in an automobile, on trains, buses, yachts and coastwise steamers, which thus will have practically unlimited communication."

He revealed that Pope Pius XI would install the two-way ultra short wave communication between Vatican City and the papal summer villa at Castel Gandolfo and that the Italian government would employ the system to communicate with islands in the Mediterranean and the Adriatic, and with Italian colonies.

The experiments were conducted between Marconi's villa at Santa Margherita and his yacht Elettra, anchored in the bay.

THREE DATES CHOSEN BI-CENTENNIAL OBSERVANCE HERE; MAY 20 1ST EVENT

Efficiently organized to take care of every detail, the Brainerd Washington Bi-Centennial committee fixed three dates Wednesday night for observance and celebration of the 200th anniversary of the birth of the first president of the United States.

Intensive programs for celebration will mark these dates—Friday, May 20, July 4 and Thanksgiving Day.

The entire day, May 20, will be devoted to honor George Washington. Celebration of the 60th anniversary of Brainerd will take place July 4 and the spirit of thanksgiving will govern the Thanksgiving day program but in all programs the committee will remember the original intent of the celebration—to commemorate the birth and life of Washington.

Intensive Program Planned
Tentative plans for May 20 call for a sports program in the morning, patriotic programs in the afternoon, a parade to Gregory park where a program of tree planting and tablet dedication will be held and a general mass observance in the evening at the Washington high school gymnasium.

These plans were contained in a comprehensive report by Rev. Edgar A. Valiant, chairman of the sub committee.

The report which suggested the personnel of officers, committee chairmen, was unanimously approved and adopted by the general committee. Twenty-five members of the committee, representing almost as many organizations in the city attended the meeting.

Personnel Approved
Officers and committee chairmen of the Bi-Centennial committees were named as follows:

General chairman—Mayor Harry W. Greger.
Executive secretary—Rev. Edgar A. Valiant.

Recording secretary—J. W. Sundberg.

Treasurer—E. W. Wise.

Program—I. L. Peterson.

Arrangements—Joseph Mraz.

Publicity—Paul F. Jaeger.

Finance—A. C. Mraz.

Schools—R. T. Campbell.

Churches—Rev. C. M. Brandon.

Music—Mrs. Tom Jones.

Parade—W. V. Turcotte.

Recreation—A. G. Loom.

Nearby communities—E. G. Roth.

Officers and committee chairmen will constitute a committee for the purpose of selecting the personnel of the different committees and report back to the next general meeting for action.

Next Meeting April 13
The next meeting of the general committee was set for Wednesday, April 13.

The organization will be kept intact until Thanksgiving Day, official closing of the Bi-Centennial observance.

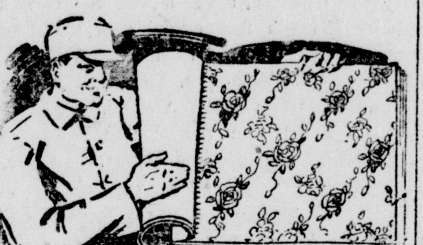

The sub committee report was signed by Mayor Harry W. Greger, Joseph Mraz, Mrs. R. Nicholl, Mrs. Roy Wyre, Rev. Edgar A. Valiant.

Expense to Be Small

"It is the firm conviction of the sub committee that the programs can be put on with comparatively small expense. The committee wants to make this celebration a gift to the city of Brainerd," Rev. Valiant said.

Three thousand buttons to serve as mementos of the occasion will be secured but will not be sold for the purpose of making a profit.

Rev. Valiant stated that the committee has been promised a boulder fittingly inscribed. This boulder will be of no expense to the committee. It will be dedicated at the

The speaker also suggested that the senior class of the Washington high school purchase a bust of George Washington as a memorial. This bust would be placed in the Washington high school and would be a long time remembrance of the efforts of the class.

The Brainerd Municipal band and the Legion Auxiliary band would play without cost to the committee, Mayor Greger reported.

The tentative program at Gregory park includes the dedication of trees planted by the D. A. R. and trees planted by the Brainerd Park Board.

The meeting is called by Mrs. Bertha Theviot, president W. R. C.

Efforts will be made to organize a school chorus of 500 voices.

The morning sports program will include baseball and diamond ball games between Brainerd and county teams.

THAT HIGHWAY TO PANAMA—

The projected Pan-American highway, to run from Laredo, Texas, to Panama City, has now reached the stage where only adequate financing is needed to permit it to be opened with five years.

This is the report from engineers who have been studying the plan. They will submit a detailed report to Congress in the fall, telling just how much money will be needed to make the roadway a reality.

It is hard to read about this project without getting a little bit excited. For here, if anywhere, would be a magic road—a highway along which the auto tourist could travel to lands rich in romance and legend. We are a nation of travelers already; how much farther would we not roam, with this highway beckoning to us!

But the chief significance of the plan is not the new vistas that it opens for the motorists of the United States and Canada. Infinitely more important would be its effect on the relationships between this country and the nations south of the Rio Grande.

The "Americanization" of the lands that border the Caribbean has been proceeding for many decades. Sometimes, regrettably enough, it has been accompanied by violence; nearly always it has aroused a certain amount of ill-will. And yet it seems to be an inevitable thing, that will continue whether the people most involved like it or not.

This highway would permit it to take a new form.

Can anyone doubt that the presence of a steady stream of tourists moving constantly across Mexico and Central America in their own automobiles would have a profound effect on the people of those lands? Or, for that matter, that it would have a profound effect on the tourists themselves?

Each group would begin to get acquainted with the other. There would be an interchange of ideas, profitable to both sides. Peaceful penetration would take the place of penetration by concession-hunters and marines.

There are boundless possibilities in this projected highway. It should be pushed to completion as fast as the funds can be found.

A $2,000,000 PRISON—

The newspapers have had a good deal to say recently about the "luxurious" new $2,000,000 prison for women which was opened in New York City the other day. Since, in that adjective, there is an implication that the prisoners are to be coddled, it is worth while to see just what sort of accommodations the new prison actually provides.

It has a nice chapel in which Catholic, Jewish and Protestant religious services can be held. It has a fully equipped hospital, with a psychiatrist on the staff. It has a modern, electrically-equipped laundry. Its cells are provided with hot and cold running water and mirrors, the cots have mattresses, and there are shower baths which the inmates may use as often as they like.

This is luxurious by contrast with some prisons, of course. But, after all, it provides nothing more than simple decency in the way of living conditions. We ought to realize that this is just about the level which all prisons, for men and women alike, ought to reach.

THE AUTO TAX—

The 3 per cent tax on automobiles, voted by the House of Representatives the other day, probably will cause loud wails of anguish among the auto manufacturers, but it is at least an immeasurable improvement on the defeated general sales tax.

The original sales tax would have rested most heavily on those least able to pay. The auto tax can hardly be called a real luxury tax, since for a tremendous number of Americans the auto is a necessity and not a luxury; but it is not, after all, out of line with justice and common sense. The man who can afford, in these hard times, to spend $500 or more on a new car can not very gracefully complain if the government adds a few dollars to that price.

A STRANGE COMFORT—

It is interesting, and vaguely comforting, to learn that Max Schmeling, heavyweight boxing champion, received no fewer than 600 votes for president in the recent German elections.

Most of us had supposed that the voters of the United States had a monopoly on the hair-brained custom of voting for such impossible clowns, athletes and comic strip characters in national elections. That was a saddening thought, for it made it look as if American voters were less intelligent than the voters of other lands.

Now, however, Germany comes to the rescue. The German voter, it develops, can play that game, too. In one of the most momentous elections in her national history, Germany managed to dig up 600 citizens who could see nothing wrong in voting to put Schmeling in Von Hindenburg's place.

The dime-a-dance girl
BY JOAN CLAYTON

BEGIN HERE TODAY

ELLEN ROSSIER, beautiful 20-year-old, loves LARRY HARROWGATE, young artist. When he becomes engaged to another girl Ellen agrees to marry STEVEN BARCLAY 37 years old and wealthy. Her impoverished family is indebted to Barclay.

Barclay has been married before. Scandal accompanied his Mexican divorce from LIDA GRAYSON, dancer. To avoid publicity Ellen and Barclay are secretly married. They drive to his home, a small house, described except for FERGUS, the butler. There Barclay suffers a heart attack. LOUIS SYMES, Barclay's lawyer, arrives with doctors and nurses. Barclay dies at dawn.

Symes tells Ellen her marriage is not legal because papers proving Barclay's divorce have been stolen. Ellen yields all claims to Barclay's fortune to avoid scandal. Then she learns Larry Harrowgate is Barclay's nephew. Heartbroken, she returns home.

Ellen distresses Fergus. She goes back to work as a hostess at Dreamland. Larry comes there tells her his engagement is broken and asks her to marry him. Ellen has not the courage to tell him of her marriage to Barclay.

Larry shows Ellen an anonymous letter he has received threatening to tell newspapers that Barclay died as a result of a night of encoquet with a feminine companion. Ellen knows Fergus has written the letter.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
CHAPTER XLV

DAYS slid by in which nothing happened. Two weeks—three weeks and no more was heard of Fergus. Larry had sent the money to the anonymous claimant. Once or twice he mentioned the matter congratulating himself that he had handled it successfully. Ellen, her heart pounding, would agree that he had done the only thing that was to be done. She was half-dreadful from waiting and worrying. A sense of impending disaster was always with her. A dozen times she had started to tell Larry everything and a dozen times a word from him, a gesture, an expression had stopped her.

Larry came often to the Brooklyn apartment these days. He and Ellen had patched up their differences. They had even come to like each other. Larry and Mike were close friends. It was Larry who had stood by when Mike enquired his first attempt to walk on crutches. All Mike's women folk had been ruled out of the room lest the boy should fall. They had been called in after the first walk was a triumph.

The apartment which was to be Ellen's and Larry's home was decorated and furnished. Larry treated over the plain gold ring in his pocket and with fits of feverish impatience insisted that he and Ellen race to City Hall so that she might wear that ring, too. Always she refused. The reason she gave was that she had not met his mother. Although Larry had never confessed it the girl knew Mrs. Harrowgate had refused to meet her. She knew that the refusal distressed Larry. Thus the happiness of the engagement days alternated with moods of black despair.

THEN on a Friday three weeks later there was a change. The blustery fall day began just as any other day with a haphazard breakfast shared by Molly and Ellen and served on the card table in Mike's bedroom. Everything was friendly and homelike with Molly's chatter of the coming marriage to make it so. Molly knew nothing of the blackmailing letters to Larry knew nothing of Ellen's secret fears and tremors. Ellen had thought it better to keep her own counsel. So Molly could rattle on, serene and confident, absorbed in wedding plans.

"But there's Larry's mother. Ellen offered in a subdued way. "Old cat!" Molly said rebelliously, breaking a piece of toast. "You shouldn't talk that way. Ellen protested though in secret agreement. "After all," she added soberly, "Larry's her only son."

"You're quite as good as he is and he has the sense to know it even if his mother hasn't. Our family—the English branch of it in any way—is every bit as good as the Harrowgates', even if we don't happen to be in the Social Register."

"She hasn't been exactly anxious to meet me," Ellen said.

"Here, use your napkin," Molly spoke hurriedly to Mike. Returning to Ellen, she observed, "Well, Larry thinks you're all right and personally I'd rather have my nose hand than I was perfect than his mother."

"I suppose there is something in that," Ellen conceded with a rueful laugh. At 10 o'clock Larry arrived unexpectedly. He was in the mood Ellen loved best. Bumping into the living room he swept her into his arms and did a mad dance. "We're going to be married in two weeks," he sang out. "Every thing's fixed. And you're going to meet Mother today."

"But—but—" Ellen stammered. "How did you manage it?" Proud color stained her cheeks. "Now Ellen, is that nice?" Larry reproached. "You'll have to take mother as she is," he said slowly and uncomfortably. "I'll be honest. Getting her to come around did take some managing. I did it by casually mentioning that high old English aunt of yours. Mother tumbled. Like all Americans she thinks an English countess is one of God's chosen."

FOR a moment Ellen felt a pang of disappointment and hurt pride but Larry's pleasure and eagerness carried her along. After all she wanted to marry him. It was up to her to make his mother come to care for her.

"Does your mother understand," she asked quietly, "that none of us has seen Aunt Myra for years?" "I told her that. And she wants you to come to tea this afternoon," Larry finished triumphantly.

"This afternoon! But I haven't a thing to wear!" Larry knew she had surrendered. "You've got to go," he said firmly. "Even if you hadn't sweet heart, you'd be a queen to me in calico."

He really meant that. Ellen fumbled with pleasure and went to tell Molly. All three of them bubbled and laughed and planned through the luncheon preparations. Afterwards Larry helped dry the dishes and then departed.

"An errand for Mother," he explained. "She wants some things from my uncle's place. Since the suit has been settled it belongs to her. You know the house is quite a show place." He interrupted himself to say suddenly, "Why don't you go out with me?"

"To—to your uncle's home?" Sleet drummed against the window panes but inside was utter silence. Ellen was conscious of an inward trembling. She glanced toward Molly and saw that her mother's face was pale.

"There'd be plenty of time," Larry urged. "I think you'd like to see the place."

"I have seen it," Ellen said, swallowing.

Larry turned in surprise. "I told you that your uncle was a friend of mine. He took me there once," she concluded weakly. It was Molly who came to the rescue. "I'm sorry but Ellen can't go," she said firmly. "I'll need her here."

Larry returned at exactly four o'clock. In spite of all her resolution Ellen was frightened. She felt young and inexperienced and sat close to Larry as the car sped through whirling snow up Park Avenue. Above them lights twinkled against the early dusk. They stopped at a towering apartment house, entered a jewel box of an elevator and were lifted upward.

Ellen drew a deep breath. Her eyes were like stars and her cheeks were blazing. With Larry she entered a richly furnished, warmly lighted apartment. The curtains were drawn and there was a crackling fire in the grate.

MRS. HARROWGATE came to meet them. She was a smart, thin, shrewdly made-up woman, wearing a Paris gown. She appeared hospitable and the same time vaguely formal. She seemed anxious to make amends for the past yet her manner was not quite convincing.

It seemed impossible for Larry's mother to make a generous surrender. She did apologize casually for her negligence but it was with an air of expecting instant pardon. Ellen smiled shyly in confusion and inclined her head. She knew she would never come to like Mrs. Harrowgate but she could get along with her. The older woman dropped a light kiss on the girl's forehead, linked arms with her and drew her forward into the warm flower-scented living room.

Ellen was never to forget the hour that followed. There were tea roses in a blue bowl on the low polished coffee table where Mrs. Harrowgate stationed herself to pour the tea. Always ever after ward the sweet heavy odor was to bring the scene back to the girl. She would see that room again in all its luxurious and infinite detail. She would hear Mrs. Harrowgate's throaty voice slipping along in conversation that was gracious but not from the heart. She would remember Larry's dark red head against the blue of his chair and the special smile he flashed toward her frequently.

An outsider would have observed only a starchy-eyed, flushed young girl in a smoky velvet dress, sitting at tea with a man who obviously adored her and an older woman who adored them both. But for two of them the meeting meant much more than that. To Larry and to Ellen this was the beginning of true happiness. Nothing now stood in the way of their marriage. What Mrs. Harrowgate was thinking and feeling would have been hidden from an outsider as it was hidden from Larry by his mother's deft and accustomed worldliness.

The hour fled away. Ellen glanced at Larry with the interrogative glance that asked if he were ready to leave. He stirred, prepared to rise. Mrs. Harrowgate caught the gesture.

"Don't go until you've had a cocktail," she said. "It's almost dinner time and I'd like one myself."

Perhaps there was something a little black in her expression. At any rate Larry settled back.

"Well—just one," he said.

Mrs. Harrowgate touched the bell. Ellen leaned back against the soft, luxurious cushions and smiled at Larry to say she understood. She heard the butler enter, heard Mrs. Harrowgate give the order. Undefinable impulse made her glance over her shoulder.

The butler was Fergus. Ellen looked directly into his cold, contemptuous eyes.

Our City Charter

(D) It is not amiss to point out that the present charter, barring a few pages, was adopted by us in the fall of 1908. Those citizens who were active in public affairs at that time are all now virtually on the side lines, looking on a new group of people, many of whom are young, have in these 24 years injected themselves into public affairs and had many accepted of civic duty. People are inclined by nature to reminisce, as we shall now do. Even many of the old experiences are forgotten and our perspective can become warped because of it. However, we remember well that not to exceed five years after the 1908 charter was adopted a Charter Commission twice offered to the voters a new charter. So quickly had things changed since 1908. The 1908 charter was a new device for our then body politic, and the omissions in it and the imperfection of it quickly came to the fore and created their consequent troubles. The two new charters aimed to correct those things, but they also offered a different form of government. Both charters failed of adoption. A succeeding commission then revamped not only the financial section of the 1908 charter and it was adopted. Subsequently an attempt was made to amend that section because of a various imperfection, impractical in kind as well as inadequate, but it failed of adoption. People are too strongly inclined to rest on their oars, and drift, in matters relating to charter revision. Presently we find that in too many respects we have outgrown former situations. In 1908 we had no concrete roads; they are a relatively new thing. Now we even concrete alleys. Our former streets were by nature as good as storm sewers. Instead, today we must build big storm sewers because concrete prevents natural seepage. Our city is rapidly becoming more beautiful and our parks more important; but our Park Board is lamentably handicapped due to insufficiency of the levy allowed for it. We improve the appearance of our city in one respect and retrench to a deplorable extent in another respect. We create a Park Board and appoint Park Commissioners and then proceed to make them of as little service as possible. We design to create impotency instead of strength and usefulness.

MACARONI SALADS

While all the old ways of serving the paste-foods are good, if you yearn for something rather out-of-the-ordinary, try a macaroni salad or two for your spring meals.

The cooking of macaroni for salads is most important for there must not be the slightest trace of stickiness or mushiness. Drop macaroni into plenty of boiling water—3 quarts and 1 tablespoon salt—to 2 cups macaroni are good proportions—and boil until tender, about 20 minutes. Drain it well and rinse with cold water. Chill and have all the other materials, too, before combining them.

Macaroni Ham Salad

This salad is particularly good served on a bed of shredded cabbage.

One cup cooked and chilled macaroni, 1 cup chopped cold boiled ham, 1 tablespoon prepared horseradish, 2 pimientos, 1 cup salad dressing (mayonnaise or cooked dressing), shredded cabbage.

Mix horseradish and ham thoroughly and combine lightly with macaroni and pimientos which have been cut in shreds. Moisten with dressing and serve on a bed of shredded cabbage.

Another substantial salad is made with eggs in combination with macaroni.

Macaroni Egg Salad

One cup cooked macaroni, 2 hard cooked eggs, ½ cup diced celery, 4 tablespoons sliced stuffed olives, salad dressing, shredded leaf lettuce.

Chop eggs and combine with macaroni, celery and olives. Add salad dressing to make moist and serve on a bed of shredded leaf lettuce. Garnish with halves of stuffed olives. Use olives stuffed with pimientos rather than those stuffed with celery or nuts.

Macaroni also makes a good filler for chicken salad. Diced cucumber is a good addition at this time of year with strips of red and green sweet pepper.

Tomorrow's Menu

BREAKFAST: Orange sections, cereal cooked with figs, cream, oven toast, milk, coffee. LUNCHEON: Spring rice, rye bread, chocolate pudding, milk, tea.

DINNER: Planited ham and eggs, spinach with Hollandaise sauce, macaroni fruit salad, toasted crackers with cheese, milk, coffee.

Macaroni also makes a good filler for chicken salad. Diced cucumber is a good addition at this time of year with strips of red and green sweet pepper.

Macaroni Fruit Salad

One cup cooked macaroni, 1 cup diced canned pineapple, 2 bananas thinly sliced and marinated in lemon juice, 1 cup whipping cream, 1 cup pineapple juice, 1-4 cup lemon juice, 1-3 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 1-4 teaspoon salt.

Mix sugar and cornstarch and stir into boiling pineapple juice. Cook, stirring occasionally in double boiler for 20 minutes. Add lemon juice and let cool. When ready to use fold in cream whipped until firm with salt. Add macaroni, pineapple and bananas to dressing and serve on lettuce hearts with a garnish of halves of fresh strawberries or maraschino cherries. A cube of bright jelly will also serve as an attractive garnish.

CHILD UNHURT IN COLLISION AUTOS T. H. 2 NEAR CITY

A two-year-old girl escaped "without a scratch" as did others in a bad collision of two automobiles on state trunk highway No. 2 at the Little Pine crossroad Wednesday.

The little girl is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Archie Lively, Brainerd. Her father was driving one car.

The other was driven by O. H. Strong, Brainerd, who was showing Charles Johnson, Brainerd, how to drive the car he had purchased for cash only half an hour earlier.

Strong had backed into the crossroad. The accident occurred as he was returning on the highway. Lively was also driving toward Brainerd.

The front wheel and front drum on the right side of the Johnson car was damaged. Damages to Lively's car consisted of a bent axle, damaged body, punctures of four tires, fenders smashed, running board caved in and two wheels smashed.

The child was thrown against the side of the car and fell to the floor. Witness said she "didn't even cry."

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE— WITHOUT CALOMEL

And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go

If you feel sour and sunk and the world looks black, don't swallow a dose of salts, mineral water, oil, laxative candy or chewing gum and expect them to make you suddenly sweet and buoyant and full of energy. For they can't do it. They only move the bowels and a mere movement doesn't get at the cause. The reason for your down-and-out feeling is your liver. It should pour out two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food doesn't digest. It just decays in the bowels. Gas builds up your stomach. You have a thick, bad taste and your breath is foul, skin often breaks out in blemishes. Your head aches and you feel down and out. Your whole system is poisoned.

It takes those good, old CARTER'S LITTLE LIVER PILLS to get those two pounds of bile flowing freely and make you feel "up and up." They contain wonderful, harmless, gentle, reliable, amazing when it comes to making the bile flow freely. But don't take for liver pills. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills. Look for the name Carter's Little Liver Pills on the red label. Lowest a substitute. 25c at all stores. © 1931 C. M. Co.
